Seven Questions To Know You Get It

What follows are seven questions that test your comprehension of the material presented in the PhoneltIn.org regulations. They're simple situational questions that help you understand the types of issues we have to deal with at WOOL and assure WOOL that you are prepared to have a show.

The correct answers reflect both the rules governing our license from the FCC and the rules specific to WOOL. You can, of course, refer to the regulations information when responding. Your answers can be brief and cite the exact reason or you can talk it through. We think that understanding these rules improves the way we work together, protects us against fines and penalties, and builds not only a better community station but a better community. Good luck. You can always ask a member of the board of directors to clarify something for you if you need help. They can be reached at info@blacksheepradio.org

1. SITUATION: A local business person sells a Program Host product that breaks. The Program Host decides to expose this business person on the air as a liar and a cheat. In the process the Program Host uses some vulgarity to emphasize the point of just how angry the Program Host is.

2. SITUATION: A Program Host, in the exercising of his first amendment rights, states in a political commentary that homosexuality is unnatural and against biblical law.

3. STATEMENT: "The folks at [Insert Store Name] are the nicest around these parts and you should go spend some money at their shop."

4. STATEMENT: "Come on down to [Insert Body Shop Name] and they'll give you a free tire check with a quote for repairs!"

5. STATEMENT: “I’m urging everyone to get to the polls early!”

6. STATEMENT: “I’ve owned a Buick and a Toyota and I can tell you the Toyota is a much better car.”

7. SITUATION: After starting your Phone It In Program you realize you can’t think of much to say to keep it interesting. You pass your account and password to your friend who will help you continue the excitement in your show with new content.

PhoneltIn.org is a service of WOOL. It allows our community to participate in the on-air dialog about our community and share their thoughts, talents, and expertise with the rest of the community using only a telephone. While the members and directors of Great Falls Community Broadcasting Company [GFCBC] are grateful for the participation of our community in this interesting and innovative endeavor, the organization does not necessarily share the opinions nor endorse the commentary of any PhoneltIn.org participant or any other Program Host participating in this community station.

The privilege of access to the airwaves is extended from GFCBC to certified participants under the conditions and terms of their Host Agreements. Program Hosts retain responsibility both financial and civil for their errors and omissions while on the air and on the internet via the signal and servers of GFCBC.

Any questions should be directed to The Board of Directors Great Falls Community Broadcasting Company PO Box 110 Bellows Falls,VT 05105 or to info@blacksheepradio.org
